THE CRISIS AT MADRID.

Washington, May 13.—The cabinet crisis at Madrid has been reached. The foreign minister and the secretary for the colonies have resigned and two other cabinet officers are said to have followed their example. It is believed that events tend toward the formation, within a short time, of a new cabinet, with Sagasta still at the head, which will favor a policy of peace on the basis of surrendering Cuba and Porto Rico in order to retain the Philippines.

Madrid, Spain, May 13.—Weyler, Robledo and the carlist and republican leaders have now deliberately set about to bring on a revolution in Spain, and that very soon.

They are plotting separately and with different objects in view, but they are working incessantly for a common end—the destruction of the existing government, root and branch.

These are conspirators have just adopted a new line of policy. They have decided to offer amendments to every bill in the cortes providing ways and means for carrying on the war, and to oppose every financial measure coming from the ministry. They will obstruct in all possible ways the passage of the bill of indemnity, as it is called; the bill to forgive the cabinet for violating the constitution by proselytizing home rule for Cuba without the consent of the cortes.

Their purpose in adopting this policy of obstruction is to prolong the deadlock in parliament, giving opportunity for the anarchists and the starving to riot, and for other manifestations of popular discontent to create such an inflammable condition of affairs throughout the kingdom that news of the next Spanish reverse shall cause an explosion.

Weyler and Robledo expect then a military dictatorship, headed by Weyler.

The republicans look for a revolution which shall sweep away the monarchies.

The carlists laugh in their sleeves and chuckle over the imminent prospect of civil war.

The court of Spain and the Madrid government have again courted the European courts and governments regarding what assistance they could give Spain during or at the close of her war with the United States.

Austria, naturally, was found to be most willing to take the lead in any action favorable to Spain.

But her allies, Germany and Italy, though they sympathize on principle with the Queen Regent, do not care to pick a quarrel with the United States.

France and Russia gave really the most enthusiastic expression of sympathy and assurances of a readiness to help in any movement when the other powers, even those on the continent only, consider intervention or mediation feasible.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CAMP AT LEXINGTON.

Washington, May 13, 9:27 a. m.—Admiral Sampson cabled the Navy Department today that in the bombardment of San Juan yesterday he lost one man killed and eight wounded. Scarcely any damage was done to the American fleet.

He failed to silence the guns of the San Juan forts, but will renew the bombardment today. He reports great damage done in the city of San Juan.

SPANISH FLEET COMING.

St. Pierre, Martinique, via Hayti, May 12—(Special Cable to Courier-Journal).—The Spanish torpedo destroyer Furor arrived at this port late last night, but immediately put to sea. Her arrival caused tremendous excitement.

About 5 o'clock this afternoon the Spanish destroyer Terror arrived.

As send this dispatch five Spanish war vessels are in sight, bound Northward, apparently in the direction of Cuba.

Washington, May 13.—The Navy Department has a cable that the Spanish fleet is approaching Porto Rico from the West, and that the long-expected battle between the two big fleets is imminent.

Admiral Sampson has withdrawn his fleet from San Juan.

SECOND BATTLE AT MARIEL.

Key West, May 13, 3 p. m.—The gunboats Manning and Hornet returned from Cuba this afternoon, where they had been attempting to land an American expedition at Mariel.

The Americans were attacked by Spanish cavalry and infantry and a hot fight ensued in which thirty Spaniards were thought to have been killed. The Americans retired rather than suffer loss.

CUBAN INVASION PLANS CHANGED.

Washington, May 13.—The plans of the War Department for the invasion of Cuba have been changed on account of the slighting of the Spanish fleet.

The soldiers ordered to Port Tampa are today being ordered to Chickamauga.

The Kentucky volunteers will be sent to Chickamauga.

FRANCE MAKING TROUBLE.

Washington, May 13.—The government has been notified that France is permitting Spain's fleet to coal at

Lee May GOVERN CUBA.

Washington, May 13.—The order sending Maj. Gen. Fitzhugh Lee to Chickamauga has been changed. Gen. Lee will remain in Washington or at his home in Richmond, subject to telegraphic instruction. There are indications today which point to the selection of Gen. Lee to be military governor of Cuba in the interim between the surrender of Blanco and the establishment of the new government of the Republic of Cuba.

ANARCHY AT HAVANA.

Tampa, Fla., May 13.—A note received by Gen. Sustler at Tampa from a scout now in Havana says:

"The volunteers have the city, and are plundering every one they may fancy has something worth stealing. Even Spaniards are sick of this rule of anarchy, and are praying that the troops of the United States may take possession speedily. Gen. Blanco is helpless and his life is in danger. The soldiers have not been paid for eight months and an awful revolt is threatened. Nightly from church towers all see the camp fires of Gen.

MEN OF MODERATE MEANS

Need no longer regard tailor-made clothes with fear and trembling. Dalton now makes clothes in his own shop, here at home—makes the clothes right, makes the bill right. It costs but a trifle more to wear garments that fit than those that a'most fit. The acme of style and workmanship is ours. Drop in at 333 Broadway and see about that belated spring suit. You'll be glad you waited—'t will cost you so little.

DALTON, THE TAILOR

Alejandro Rodriguez's troops, a mile or two from the walls of Havana."

TAE EUROPEAN POWERS.

Washington, May 13.—It is said that three continental powers are determined to prevent operations by the United States anywhere else but in the West Indies. A fleet of German warships has been ordered to Manila, and Germany claims credit for preventing bombardment there. The same report says the powers will endeavor to prevent the United States from taking the Philippines, and thus securing a foothold in the far East.

CAPT. DAVIS HURT.

Fell From a Loft This Afternoon at Camp Collier.

Lexington, Ky., May 13.—Capt. B. B. Davis fell from a loft at Camp Collier this afternoon and was painfully, but not seriously hurt, and may be laid up for a few days.

PRESIDENT GIVEN THE NEWS.

Washington, May 13.—Impending is the greatest crisis of the existing war. Upon the result of the battle expected to occur within the next forty-eight hours between the division of the North Atlantic Squadron under the command of Rear Admiral Sampson, and the Spanish Cape Verde fleet, now approaching San Juan, will depend the immediate destruction or the postponement of the fall of Spain's power in the West Indies.

Furthermore, the success of Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet, which no one doubts for a moment, will be a blow to the Madrid Government from which it cannot possibly recover, and it will have a great effect in bringing about an early close of the war.

ANOTHER CUBAN EXPEDITION.

Port Tampa, Fla., May 13, 2:52 p. m.—Another transport ship is being rapidly loaded with troops for Cuba, and it is evident that another expedition is making ready to sail for Cienfuegos at once, notwithstanding the denial of President McKinley. The war correspondents' passes have been signed.

BATTLE EXPECTED TODAY.

Washington, May 13—Bulletin—Secretary Long says he expects a decisive battle today.

The Flying squadron will sail to join the blockading fleet at Havana to prevent the Spanish fleet from entering the harbor.

SAMPSON WAITING FOR BATTLE.

St. Thomas, May 13—Bulletin—Admiral Sampson has withdrawn all his ships from San Juan except the monitors, which are left to guard the harbor.

It is reported here that white flags are flying over all the buildings of San Juan. Sampson will not land any men, but has withdrawn his fleet and is awaiting the Spanish fleet to give it battle.

ANOTHER CUBAN BATTLE REPORTED.

Key West, May 13—The steamer Gussie landed the first installment of the Cuban invading army at Cabanas yesterday.

Five hundred Spanish soldiers attempted to prevent the landing. The American troops fighting from the ship and the shore completely routed the Spanish troops. It is reported that 100 of them were slain. Only one American was wounded, and he only trivially.

ADMITTED BY BERMEJO.

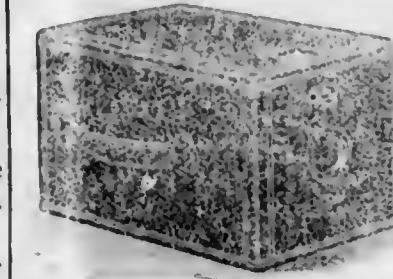

London, May 13—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail, telegraphing late Thursday night, says: "Admiral Bermejo admitted tonight that the Cape Verde squadron is now at Fort de France, on the West coast of Martinique, French West Indies.

"The government has received information that Admiral Cervera's voyage to Martinique was uneventful. The route to be taken to Porto Rico is not known here, but it was embodied in Admiral Cervera's secret instructions. He was instructed to coal at a neutral port, and probably selected Fort de France for that purpose."

FELL LIKE HEROES.

Story of the Battle of Cardenas, Where the First American Blood for Cuban Freedom Was Shed.

TRAGIC DEATH OF GALLANT ENSIGN BAGLEY

Military Salutes Fired in Honor of the Dead Heroes, While a Nation of Patriots Mourns.

"TELL MY PEOPLE THAT I DIED LIKE A MAN!"

Washington, May 13.—The navy department yesterday received official report of the bombardment of Cardenas, which took place Wednesday, in the following official telegram:

Key West.—To secretary of navy: In action in Cardenas harbor yesterday between the Spanish gunboats and shore batteries and blockading vessels, the following named men were killed on the torpedo boat Winslow:

She reached the point nearly 500 yards from the shore when suddenly the shubbery parted and a heavy boom exploded out. The Spanish were too close to miss. A heavy solid shot and shell hit all about the torpedo boat. The solid shot tore through her hull and the forward boiler blew up. But her men did not flinch. Another shot tore away her rudder, and she drifted helpless. The Hudson steamed into harbor and took the Winslow in tow.

Ensign Bagley killed.

Huskers were scarcely fast when a shell exploded directly over the damaged boat. Lieut. Bagley was instantly killed and the dead and wounded carried on the Hudson this morning. The dead will be buried today.

The dead and wounded arrived on the Hudson this morning. The dead will be buried today.

(Signed.) RENY.

The navy department adds the following note: The names of Veale and Patterson do not appear on the department register roll of the Winslow and are probably other names misspelled. The vessels blockading Cardenas were the gunboat Machias, torpedo boat Foote and Winslow and revenue cutter Hudson.

Bagley was instantly killed. Half a dozen more fell groaning on the government dock. This was the first news of the engagement to reach Key West. No time was lost in ministering to the wounded. A quick call was sent to the Marine Hospital and an ambulance came clattering down to the dock. The dead were taken to an undertaker's

FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1898.

Five gallant heroes have fallen under the fire of Spanish guns, and the war for Cuban freedom has been baptized with American blood. The bravery of the fallen ones will prove an inspiration to their comrades-in-arms, and "Remember the Maine" will have an additional meaning when the battle again rages.

Thus Spaniards may not be able to win a naval battle, but their minister of marine has managed to keep the American government guessing as to what he proposes to do. That Cape Verde fleet has now been at sea two weeks, and still it cannot be located. It is evident that Spain proposes to save her fleet, if nothing else.

The House of Representatives has taken a wise step in passing a resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution making the election of United States Senators by direct popular vote instead of by the State Legislatures as at present. It is very probable that this amendment, when submitted to the State will be adopted.

Capt. W. T. Ellis one of the high executioners of the will of the Goebel machine, otherwise known as the "State Board of Election Commissioners," is something of a humorist himself. In speaking of the selection of the county commissioners, he said we "will pay little attention to the recommendations of the politicians." Next!

As contrary as the idea is to the national spirit and public sentiment of the past, this nation may be forced to make the war with Spain one of conquest. Before the war closes we will have the Philippine Islands, Cuba and Porto Rico on our hands, and the question will be how to let them go. Spain will be unable to pay a war indemnity in money, and Porto Rico will be retained by this country as an indemnity. Cuba will be given her freedom under the protection of the United States. It is doubtful if the Philippines can be turned over to any other power amicably, and they can not be given back to Spain without outraging humanity. Apparently the only peaceable settlement will be the establishment of a home government of some suitable form under an American protectorate. If Spain delays in suing for peace the capture of the Canaries by an American fleet would result, and the stars and stripes would be unfurled there. This war will destroy the last vestige of Spain's claim to imperial domain, and it may embroil the United States in the quarrels of the Powers of Europe.

INSURGENTS OBEY DEWEY.

New York, May 13.—A copyright dispatch to the evening World dated Wednesday at Hong Kong, says:

The Philippine rebel chief, Gen. Aguinaldo, has issued a proclamation to the insurgents at Manila to obey the orders of Commodore Dewey and United States Consul Williams.

Killing still goes on in the outlying districts, where natives are revenging themselves on the priests and local Spanish officials in spite of the orders of Aguinaldo.

Wealthy Philippine families who are leaving Hong Kong for Manila daily appear before Consul-General Williams here and ask to be allowed to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. The powerful Cortes family insisted on having their prayer for citizenship telegraphed to President McKinley, and offered their palace at Manila for the accommodation of American officers.

GLADSTONE WELCOMES DEATH.

London, May 13.—A letter written by a member of Mr. Gladstone's family says the patient has not left his room for a fortnight. It adds: "It has been hoped he might have some sense of enjoyment when the warm weather returned and turned the whole earth into a garden, but the truth is he has taken leaves of all portions of the earth. He is possessed with a sense of departure. His body, mind and soul ask for no food of any kind. His one desire is for peace. He has longer times of quiet sleep or rest with closed eyes than when the morphine treatment began; but though he has considerable physical strength he is unable to listen to anything but a short message of one or two sentences. Even this is often an effort. He has seen three or four friends outside of the family, but no conversation occurred, nothing but a farewell blessing for each of them."

INCREASED TAX ON TOBACCO.

Washington, May 13.—The senate committee on finance decided at its meeting Wednesday to increase the tax on manufactured tobacco in the war revenue bill from 12 cents, the house rate, to 16 cents per pound, and to exempt the stock on hand from the operations of the act.

FILL LIKE HEROES.

and the wounded conveyed to the hospital.

Ensign Bagley was about 26 years old, and while the fleet was stationed here he was one of the most popular men in the service. The news of his death came as a terrible shock to all who knew him. It has always been a foregone conclusion that the torpedo men were among the first to fall, as their work is most dangerous, but in spite of this, when the fleet was stationed here and changes in assignments were frequently made, all the young men of the service were eager for torpedo boat duty.

The Hudson shows the effect of the fight. Her smokestack is punctured with bullet holes and her cabin and decks are smashed and splintered.

Ships here are firing, salutes to the dead seamen. They will probably be buried here. Bagley's body is embalmed for his relatives.

It is stated that when the death missile burst Bagley staggered from the gun he was aiming to the flag pole aft, clasped his arms around it and sank dead beneath old glory. Meek died when near Key West. "Tell my people I died like a man," he gasped. Patterson cannot live. He jokes over it and says: "I bet I hit some of them even if we were caught in the trap." Lieutenant Bernardo smokes cigar and answers questions pleasantly, though in great pain. All flags are at half mast. Meek was born in Clyde, Ohio. E. L. Tunell is colored. He came from Acetona, Va. McKeon is a naturalized citizen from Ireland. Veruseo is also naturalized and was born in Smyrna.

The Spanish Side.

Col. Moncada with one company of marines and 300 volunteers resisted the landing forces.

Moncada's official account says the Spanish firing was so heavy and continuous that the American boats were unable to land and returned to ships which withstood.

One of the ships was badly damaged. During the fighting the rebels attacked the land forces a few miles inland. The Spaniards say the rebels were defeated and dispersed with heavy loss. Ladies of the Red Cross are universally praised for their care in attending to the wounded throughout the bombardment.

Gen. Blanco has wired to Col. Moncada his congratulations upon having frustrated the landing of Americans. Another Havana (enclosed) dispatch claims that great expectancy prevails there, as it is believed that the Spanish Atlantic squadron is close at hand.

WETS AND DRIES IN BALLARD.

There is to be an exciting election in Ballard county on the 21st inst., and already there is a great deal of interest taken in it, and both sides are marshalling their forces.

Ballard is now dominated by the "dry," and an effort will be made to defeat them so signally that the question will never come up again in the county for a long time.

A HOT TIME.

That Is What Happened at Belle Acre's Joint Yesterday.

They Had a Battle.

The Police Proclaimed Peace, and Judge Sanders Did the Rest This Morning.

There was a hot time in Belle Acre's joint, on Ninth street, near Washington, late yesterday afternoon. She claims that she has been keeping a strictly respectable house, with no one there but herself and a "gentleman friend," who furnishes the provisions and occupies one of the two rooms of their singl[e] little retreat. Belle does the cooking to things up again, but there is nothing wrong in that.

Sometimes a few of her friends meet there and enjoy a few cans. This was the case yesterday. It seems Annie Copeland, a soiled dove, had a sweetheart who was thinking of going to the war, so she informed the court, and were on their way to the depot. He concluded he had gotten far enough, and stopped at Belle's to have a growler or two. This was about 12:30 o'clock.

About 3 o'clock the first battle was fought. The young man who wanted to go to war was not in the conflict, however.

Another one of Belle's guests, who had enjoyed more than his share of refreshments, insulted her friend, the man who had for the grab and for a can cooked, and invitations were extended and accepted to repair to the yard for hostilities. They re-paired.

The young man who had started to war was not in it, but he made a desperate effort to get out and fire a few volleys. The woman in trying to hold him back and prevent a carnage precipitated further trouble, and the result was the whole push was landed at police headquarters, and the Acre woman was warranted for keeping a disorderly house.

The other woman was warranted for being drunk and disorderly, and Judge Sanders said in her behalf that he believed she made more noise at the corner of Third and Court, while being carried to the lockup, than any Comanche Indian who ever lived and died.

The court then paid its respects to assignment house, and said the police would have his cordial assistance in breaking them all up.

He fined the festive Belle $25 and told her she would be recognized for her good behavior in the sum of $200 when she has paid or worked out her fine. The Copeland was fined $10 and costs.

A slick thief was captured this morning and presented in the police court on a charge of stealing a nozzle from Mr. Courtney Ellis' yard. He was seized by one of these attacks in a wagon yard last evening, and the operation was deemed necessary. A hole was cut in his throat to locate the obstruction, but it could not be found, and the condition of the patient became precarious.

He had for several months been troubled by a throat or lung affection, which at times made it almost impossible for him to breath. He was seized by one of these attacks in a wagon yard last evening, and the operation was deemed necessary. A hole was cut in his throat to locate the obstruction, but it could not be found, and the condition of the patient became precarious.

He breathed through the hole instead of through his mouth or nose, and seemed to be in great pain.

He is an Ingram's boarding house, on North Fourth street, where he was carried for the operation.

This morning Mr. Vance was resting easy, having spent a restful night under the care of a trained nurse.

BANANAS IN TYPHOID FEVER.

(American Druggist.)

After a long experience with typhoid patients, Dr. Ussery, of St. Louis, maintains that the best food for them is the banana. He explains by stating that in this disease the lining membrane of the small intestines becomes intensely inflamed and engorged, eventually beginning to slough in spots, leaving well-defined ulcers, at which places the intestinal walls become dangerously thin. Now, a solid food, if taken into the stomach, is likely to produce perforation of the intestines, due to the fact that the body is moved to the stomach, and this being the case, solid foods, or those containing a large amount of inorganic substances, are to be avoided as dangerous. But the banana, though it may be classed as solid food, containing as it does 95 per cent nutrition, does not possess sufficient waste to irritate the sore spots; nearly the whole amount taken into the stomach is absorbed, giving the patient more strength than can be obtained from other food.

HIS NAME WAS GOOD.

The name of the rooster drowned in the Buckeye State here might before last be Lee Good, of St. Louis. This was learned from Capt. McLean, who wrote a letter to that effect to Wharfmaster Saunders, Fowler. The man overalls, a calico shirt, and had a handkerchief around his neck.

It hung there all night long, and while it may not have been anything great in the way of a light, it was better than no light at all, and furnished a great deal of fun in the locality.
